

From what two places can you choose a generated item such as text?

Choose from the Browser Effects tab or from the Generator popup menu in the Video tab in the Viewer.

What tab in the Viewer do you select to make changes to text clips?

The Controls tab.

When you superimpose an edit over a V1 clip, to what track should the source control be patched for the superimposed clip to be placed on V2?

The V1 track.

What type of generated text identifies a person, place, or thing?

A lower third.

Under what menu can you find the Show Title Safe option?

The View menu, and the View popup in the Viewer and Canvas.

What generated item is used as a color and sound reference at the head of a sequence?

Bars and tone.

Where can you find the Drop Shadow attribute?

In the Motion tab in the Viewer.

In what text generator does a separate window appear for making text changes?

The Boris Text generator.

What automated text generator is often used for credit rolls?

The Scrolling Text generator.

How can you adjust a clip's opacity?

Drag the opacity overlay on a video clip in the Timeline, or open a clip in the Viewer and change the Opacity parameter in the Motion tab.

When you choose a color for a color matte, you can pick a color only from the Colors window. True or false?

False. You can use the Select Color eyedropper to pick a color from any clip in any open sequence.

What is it called when you edit one sequence inside another?

Nesting.

What category of generated items can you use to apply a Motion template?

Master templates.